66. Police Welfare, viz, Housing, Accident riskcover, group insurance benefits etc., will receive the anxious attention of the Government.

67. Government will also take steps to better the service conditions and the facilities of the Policemen.

68. Recruitment to the rank of Sub Inspectors in the past few years has been in large numbers and consequently there is stagnation at this levels. Steps will be considered for improving their career mobility. Simultancouly Police Personal planning and training will receive better attention.

69. With a view to eradicating corruption from public life a legislative measure to deal with corruption of public men will be enacted.

70. The Intelligence set up will be strengthened and more accent will be laid on scientific investigation of crime and use of computer and other aids to scientific investigation.

71. There is urgent need to bring about positive changes in Police functioning in general and in Police investigation, tension management and documentation system in particular. The question of introducing appropriate legislation to meet the different types of emerging crimes in the State also has to be examined. It is proposed to appoint a Police Reforms Commission for this purpose.

72. To eliminate delay in disposal of cases suitable measures will be considered.

73. My Government will actively consider the posibilities of bringing more correctional influences on the inmates of the Jail. More opportunities for their education and recreation and more opportunities for get together with their family and through the family with society will be provided in such a way as to help them change their criminal tendencies. My Government has already taken steps to improve the diet of the inmates. Health needs of the Jail-inmates will also be given more attention.

74. Treatment of prisoners, under trials and convicts and those admitted to after-care homes and such other reformative institutions also has to be improved.

75. Encouragement of sports and the nurturing of sportsmanship will engage the serious attention of my Government. The scheme for giving financial assistance to schools and Panchayats for the development of playgrounds in rural areas is proposed to be liberalised. Construction of stadiums in district headquarters where such facilities are not available is also under consideration. It is proposed to render assistance to the players selected for Asian Games 1982, during the periods in between coaching camps so that they can equip themselves adequately for the Asian Games. The liberalization of Flying Scholarships to the students of the Kerala Flying Club will be considered.

76. I take this opportunity to congratulate the sportsmen and women of his State who have won lurels at the national athletic meets during he year.

LIBRARY ARCHIVES Kerala Legislative Assembly